CLEMENCY TO TWO YOUTHS

McGUIRE BROTHERS, IN HOG THEFT, TO BE SPARED.

J. J. RYAN GIVES BOND

Harry Leslie Paxton, 19, Pleads Guilty to Larceny; Case Under Advisement.

Cases set for the remainder of the January term:

Mary L. Maher, et al, vs. Rebecca J. McGarey, et, al., will contest, set for January 25.

Bank of Hopkins against Cornelius McCleve, note, set for January 25.

Joseph J. Ryan, possession of intoxicating liquor, set for January 26.

Northwestern Bank of Missouri vs. James O. Stafford, note, set for January 26.

The Parnell Bank vs. Ellis J. Lyle, et al, contract, set for January 28.

Dow Huntsman, manufacturing and possession of liquor, set for January 31.

Charges of grand larceny brought against Frederick McGuire, 17 years old, were dismissed today in circuit court by Prosecuting Attorney George Pat Wright. McGuire admitted complicity in stealing a hog from the farm of Maurice Egan, north of Guilford, in company with his brother, Theodore, and Z. O. Ashford, their uncle.

Ashford was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary and Theodore to two years in the state reformatory at Boonville.

County officers have been in communication with friends of the boys at their former home, Indianola, Okla. The friends have vouched for their integrity and J. H. Bynum of that place has written to the sheriff in behalf of the boys.

May Set Aside Sentence.

In view of the fact that this was the boys' first offense, and because they are young, together with other circumstances and that they were well thought of in their former home town, Judge John M. Dawson said this morning he probably would set aside the sentence he imposed upon the elder of the two boys, Theodore.

They had been living with Ashford, north of Guilford, at the time of the hog stealing and were induced by him to assist him in the act, they have told the court.

Yesterday in circuit court the J. R. Watkins Co., plaintiff in a contract suit against Austin B. Strader, et al., was awarded judgment by the court for $2,055.10 at 6 per cent interest.

Raymond Shroyer filed an attachment suit against Harvey R. Lazenby and service by publication was ordered by the court.

Joseph J. Ryan, a blacksmith, who early yesterday morning was arrested by officers, after they had raided his blacksmith shop on Market street and found two-thirds of a gallon of alleged corn whisky, gave bond for $700. He is charged with possession of intoxicating liquor and his case set for January 26.

The back tax suit of the Skidmore-Maitland Drainage district against J. P. Wilson, was stricken from the docket.

Case Under Advisement.

Harry Leslie Paxton, charged with burglary and larceny, who lives near Guilford, entered a plea of guilty and Judge Dawson took his case under advisement.

Paxton, who is 19 years of age, admitted stealing three sacks of flour from the Farmers Exchange at Guilford, when he was called as a witness in the case of the State against George Clemmons, convicted of receiving stolen property.

Several cases were continued yesterday. They were:

Tootle-Lacy National Bank against Elmer Fraser, note.

B. G. Thayer, St. Joseph, against C. H. Atkinson Paving Company, damages.

Union Cattle Loan Company against James E. Strickler, et al., notes.

Wilcox Co-operative Association against Kirschbraun Brothers, attachment.

Ethel Comer Flowers against John W. Woods, et al., set aside will.

Raborn McComb Motor Company against George W. Schneider, note.

W. F. Hartman against Russell Bagby, damages.

A. A. Thummell against Joe Parker, attachment.

House on Farm Near Quitman Is Burned

Fire Totally Destroys Building Owned By Alex Wells and Occupied by Grover Sleenor Family.

A farm house owned by Alex Wells on his land east of Quitman was burned about 7 o'clock this morning. An over-heated flue is given as the probable cause of the fire.

Grover Sleenor and family were living on the place, and all of their household goods were destroyed. The loss of the household goods was covered by insurance, however.

The house was one and a half stories and contained five or six rooms. The amount of the loss has not been estimated.

The Sleenor family moved into the Byron Williams house on an adjoining farm. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Sleenor, one daughter, Gertrude, was at home. No one was injured.

HULL NAMED POSTMASTER

PRESENT INCUMBENT HERE TO SUCCEED HIMSELF.

TERM EXPIRES FEB. 10

Reappointment Expected by Republican Leaders But Comes Earlier Than Looked for.

The name of John F. Hull of Maryville was sent to the Senate today by President Coolidge to succeed himself as postmaster of Maryville, according to a dispatch from Washington.

The reappointment of Mr. Hull as postmaster here was both expected and unexpected. He has the support of the Republican leaders, and there is expected to be no opposition to his confirmation, but his nomination by the President at this time came as a surprise, even to Mr. Hull.

The postmaster's present commission will not expire until February 10, and, following precedent, his reappointment was not expected until after that date.

Mr. Hull took charge of the office here on April 1, 1923, and his reappointment is for another term of four years.

President Coolidge also sent to the Senate today the name of Arthur T. King to be postmaster at Warrensburg, Mo.

Agricultural Awards Not Made This Year

No One Eligible for Certificate of Distinguished Service, College Announces.

Columbia, Mo., Jan. 22.—No certificates for distinguished service to agriculture are being awarded this year by the Missouri College of Agriculture. This does not mean the custom will be discontinued but that no man is eligible this year, according to college officials. The award usually is made as a part of the exercises of the annual Farmers' week.

The certificates that have been conferred are those in January, 1925, to N. H. Gentry of Sedalia, Sherman Houston of Malta Bend and Sam Jordan of Columbia and in January, 1926, to Dr. E. L. Beal of Republic, George B. Ellis of Appleton City, L. M. Monsees of Smithton and C. D. Bellows of Maryville.

R. R. Staples, Tarkio; Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Jones, Hopkins; and Rex Kidder, Bedison, were Maryville visitors today.

ERNEST WRAY PUT ON BOARD

MARYVILLE MAN DIRECTOR OF STATE FARM BUREAU.

R. W. BROWN PRESIDENT

Resolutions Urge River Development, Organization, County Budgets and Support of College.

Columbia, Jan. 22.—Ernest Wray of Maryville was elected as a member of the board of directors of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation at the annual meeting held here Thursday.

R. W. Brown, Carrollton, was elected president and E. L. Corbin, Jefferson City, secretary.

Members of the board of directors besides Mr. Wray are Mr. Brown, R. L. Mumford, Gower; C. C. Brown, Clifton Hill; A. Lee Ely, Monroe City; H. E. Slusher, Lexington; J. O. Trampe, Baden Station; Mrs. W. O. Redford, Warrensburg; Mrs. V. E. Fleming, Hannibal.

Twelve resolutions were passed by the Federation late Thursday. They follow, in part:

"We believe that river transportation is essential to the further development of Midwest agriculture and we commend the action of the Missouri delegation in Congress supporting constructive legislation which should improve and cheapen our present transportation facilities.

"We desire to lend our support and assistance to all farm organizations which are founded on an honest effort to help the farmer, and wish to co-operate with all of them for the betterment of agricultural conditions and we, therefore reaffirm our belief that in organization lies the solution of many of the farm problems, and urge upon all interested in agriculture to lend their support toward this end, that farmers may have a means of orderly marketing their products.

"While we are thoroughly in sympathy with all ideas of economy in the expenditures of public funds, and desire a great retrenchment along this line, yet we would convey to the present State Legislature the wish of the members of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation that an appropriation be made to take care, as far as possible, of the needs of the Missouri Agricultural College and extension department to safeguard Missouri agriculture and horticulture against the corn borer and other menacing scourges.

"We urge all county farm bureaus to insist that their fiscal courts adopt a budget system for the expenditures of public funds.

"Whereas, important measures affecting the State highway system will be considered by the Legislature now in session, therefore, be it resolved that the officers and members of the various county farm bureaus by resolutions or otherwise communicate their views to the members of the General Assembly from their respective districts."

Former Marine Held on Bad Check Charge

Winston Fultz was in the custody of county officers today, after he was arrested by Frank Burchett, deputy sheriff of Graham, on a bogus check charge.

The charge has been pending against Fultz for about a year. He had returned to Graham on a furlough from the marines and the old charge was brought against him.

The Y. M. C. A., and the Y. W. C. A., at the State Teachers College won the prizes for the best "stunts" in connection with the Campus Comedies, presented in the College auditorium last night. Gordon Roach was master of ceremonies and there were eleven organizations represented in the contest.

The Y. M., won the first prize of $5, with a grand opera selection by Paschal Monk and Vernon Barrett. The opera was set to music by Marvin Westfall from a College Humor poem about a co-ed and her gum.

The Y. W.'s stunt was a "Romance in Two-Four Time."

Mr. and Mrs. Townsend Godsey and John Arthur Noid were the judges. A good crowd attended the affair, which was sponsored by the College Student Council.

DAMAGE SUIT OF BROTHERS TO JURY LATE

Testimony in Onstott Case Concluded This Noon and Counsel Argue Over Instructions.

Wrangling over instructions to be given to the jury trying the Onstott damage suit, this afternoon temporarily delayed presentation of final arguments by counsel.

However, Judge John M. Dawson, sitting in the case that for more than two days has been occupying the circuit court—that of Robert H. Onstott against his brother, Perry, for $5,500 damages, resulting from gun shot wounds he received from Perry's gun—ordered the jury in to hear summations at 2:40 o'clock this afternoon.

The attorneys were given forty minutes each for their final pleas and then the case, which arose over a shooting that occurred September 19, 1925, will go to the jury for deliberation.

Testimony was concluded at noon today.

The courtroom has been crowded at each session of the Onstott suit which was called by the judge Thursday afternoon.

COUNTY SENDS STATE TAXES

TREASURER FORWARDS $54,791 FROM DECEMBER COLLECTION.

LESS THAN YEAR AGO

Apportionment for County Funds Amounts to $136,556.89—Big Amount to Pauper Fund.

Bess Thorp, county treasurer, today sent to the state $54,791.04 from taxes collected during the month of December.

Her monthly statement of taxes, collected in the county and turned over to her, showed the December, 1926, collections less than the December, 1925 collections by a few thousand dollars.

Last December $234,817.91 was collected, while for the corresponding period of 1925 there was $235,432.86 turned into her office. These totals included current taxes, delinquents, merchants, railroad and telegraph taxes.

Of the current taxes paid to her office during the last month there was $166,069.69, which was $11,946.70 less than the year before in December.

The county received $136,556.89 of the total December, 1926 taxes, which was apportioned as follows:

Salary fund, $13,655.71; bridge, $45,518.95; pauper, $50,070.84; jury, $4,551.89; and contingent fund, $22,759.50.

The pauper fund, which was the largest in this apportionment.

The large pauper fund at this apportionment was necessitated by the fact that a new infirmary had been built at the county farm.

The total December taxes received by Mrs. Thorp was made up from the following sources:

Current tax, $166,069.69; back tax, $727.80; interest on back tax, $914.55; delinquent personal tax and interest, $1.75; merchants tax, $2,729.77; peddlers tax, $40; delinquent income tax, $30.03; and railroad and telegraph taxes, $57,756.32.

BUS IS HIT BY TRAIN; 10 DIE

BAYLOR UNIVERSITY'S BASKETBALL TEAM IN CRASH.

BLOOD BATHES ENGINE

Twelve Other Members of Party, En Route to Play Texas University Are Killed.

Taylor, Tex., Jan. 22.—At least ten persons were known dead and twelve other members of the Baylor University basketball party, of Waco, en route to Austin, were injured, when an International Great Northern fast train demolished a bus at a grade crossing outside Round Rock at noon today.

The dead and injured were brought to a hospital here.

The bus was splintered and the front part of the train bathed in blood. The train was stopped a quarter of a mile from the crossing, after it had struck the bus squarely. Hospital authorities were unable to give a complete check of the casualties.

The Baylor athletic teams have made it their custom to travel in a big automobile bus for the past several years.

The Baylor basketball team was scheduled to play Texas University in Austin tonight.

Wesley Bradshaw, Waco, former Baylor football star and once mentioned in Walter Camp's All-American selections, was traveling with the team and is one of the injured.

Ralph Wolf was coach of the Baylor basketball team.

Smith Attorneys Begin Final Fight

Lawyers Protest Admission of Evidence Taken by Reed Investigating Committee.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Five attorneys representing the state of Illinois and its Republican senator designate, Frank L. Smith, began their fight before the Senate privileges and elections committee today to prevent the Senate from finally ousting Smith.

The first action by the committee was admission of the evidence of Smith's $287,000 campaign expenditures, divulged in Chicago last summer by the Reed election investigating committee.

The Illinois and Smith attorneys immediately protested this and the committee granted them a week in which to present arguments.

Callahan, who was arraigned yesterday as one of the men on charges of attempting to obtain money by fraud, as one of the men who swindled his father, W. W. Aldrich, out of $10,000 in January, 1926, at Memphis, Tenn., in a confidence plot.

Barge Lines Charge Railroads Are Unfair

Chicago, Jan. 22.—Transcontinental freight between northern points in the United States will be materially lowered if the interstate commerce commission will set a different rate for barge lines and railroads, Theodore Brandt, traffic manager of the Mississippi river Warrior barge company, said at a commission session here.

Brandt, together with other barge officials, is seeking to lower the rate railroads charge for carrying freight from the water front to inland points. The railroads, he says, put their rates so high that it is cheaper for a shipper to do all his shipping by rail.

The railroad counsel, present at the hearing, countered with the reply that the roads are overloaded with short haul traffic between points now, and that loading and unloading is where expense comes in, and that therefore they do not wish to bother with carrying barge freight inland at a low rate.

Shenandoah Banker Acquitted by Jury

Elbert A. Reed Found Not Guilty of Breaking and Entering Institution.—Jury Out All Night.

Clarinda, Ia., Jan. 22.—The jury in the case of Elbert A. Reed, Shenandoah, charged with breaking and entering the closed First National Bank of Shenandoah, of which he is a former officer, returned a verdict of not guilty.

The jury reported at 9:05 o'clock this morning after having been in session since 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It was said eleven ballots were taken, the vote standing 9 to 3 for acquittal at the first, and an unanimous ballot finally being reached this morning. The jury was up all night.

Mr. and Mrs. Read were in the courtroom this morning when the jury reported. After reading the verdict, both of them expressed their pleasure to members of the jury.

NEXT MOVE BY UNITED STATES

MEXICO AWAITS RESPONSE TO ARBITRATION SUGGESTION.

OIL MEN DISPLEASED

Nothing to Arbitrate, They Declare.—Alarmed by Senate Committee Decision.

Washington, January 22.—The amended Robinson resolution urging arbitration of the oil and land controversy with Mexico was reported formally to the Senate today by Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee, which has approved it.

The resolution will be taken up Monday by the Senate.

Mexico City, Jan. 22.—The next step in arbitration proposals must come from Washington, was the attitude here in semi-official circles after the announcement by the Mexican foreign office that it was willing to embrace arbitration in "principle."

Representatives of oil companies were much perturbed when informed that the Senate foreign relations committee had voted in favor of adjudicating the differences through arbitration.

"What points can be arbitrated?" one official asked, insisting that the Mexican government has no right to confiscate American property.

Meanwhile editorial attacks by Mexican newspapers on Secretary of State Kellogg and his department's policies have been renewed. The Newspaper Ed Sol, attacking Secretary Kellogg, likened him to an old pedagogue of an ancient epoch "whose puritanical hypocrisy is an anachronism in modern times." The newspaper declared that public opinion in the United States was opposed to Kellogg, who now understands that the Latin-American race is something morally and legally above international capitalism.

He was released on a bond of $1,000 and will be tried later.

E. R. Barrett, cashier of the defunct American Exchange Bank, indicted on the charge of obtaining money for the bank under false pretenses and sale of commercial assets of the American Exchange bank to the Farmers and Mechanics Bank last November, also appeared in court today, pleaded not guilty and was released on bond of $1,500.

A similar indictment was returned against his brother, W. W. Barrett, who was president of the bank, but who now is in Florida. He will appear here later.

AMERICANS IN CHINA FLEEING

ISOLATED MISSIONARIES FLOCK TO PROTECTION OF NAVY.

ROITING IN SHANGHAI

Striking Tram Workers Celebrate Victory With Violent Outburst, Bringing Clash With Police.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Americans were fleeing today from dozens of isolated mission posts to Chinese coast cities, where U. S. battleships await to protect them or carry them to the Philippines and safety, if necessary.

Officials here are alarmed over the anti-foreign riots sweeping China and are taking all precautions to evacuate the 12,000 Americans there in an emergency.

American battleships and marines are prepared to use force to cover an evacuation but it is realized that foreign guns, unless discreetly used, may enrage rather than frighten the Chinese mobs. In no case will American forces take sides in the internal military and political conflict.

Shanghai Heavily Guarded.

Shanghai, Jan. 22.—Heavy police guards patrolled the entire business section of Shanghai today, following a violent outbreak of rioting which had its inception in the celebration by striking Chinese tram workers of a union victory.

Organizing a parade to celebrate the tram company's acceptance of their demands, the Chinese workmen started a tour of the city to the accompaniment of exploding firecrackers and a number of bands. Others commandeered trams and drove them pell mell through the streets.

Fearing serious disturbances, a phalanx of police charged the rioters at the Nanking road and ordered them to disperse. The mob replied with hurled stones and brick pavements, driving the police back.

Volunteers Called Out.

More than 5,000 Chinese tram workers were involved in the rioting, which resulted in severe injuries to fifty of the strikers and twelve policemen. So serious did the situation become, after the repulse of the constabulary's attack upon the mob on the Nanking road, that a general call for volunteers was issued in the city. Shutting off all electrical power to prevent operation of the trams, the police summoned reinforcements and a number of emergency squads and machine gunners were hurried to the scene.

The Chinese were cowed by the threat of the rapid fire guns and dispersed before the gunners were compelled to fire.

The police were apprehensive, however, that the strikers will refuse to return to work and have thrown a double guard of policemen about the entire business area. Three central police stations have been fully mobilized and are standing by in anticipation of further trouble.

Twenty-six American war vessels are in Chinese waters or on the way there. Nearby, at Manila in the Philippines, seventeen more are under steam, ready to move northward on an hour's notice.

Aboard these ships, some of them up the Yangtze river, in the interior of China, are 6,282 blue jackets and 819 marines. At Peking there is a legation guard of more than 100 marines.

THE ONLY DAILY PAPER IN NODAWAY COUNTY.

BOOKS FOR THE WORLD.

Bernard Shaw, returning to the Swedish minister at London the money given him as winner of the Nobel prize for literature, writes:

"Sweden invites us to buy her paper, but there is nothing printed on it. The function of Swedish paper is to wrap Australian apples in. And yet Sweden's most valuable export is her literature, of which we in Britain are deplorably ignorant."

He therefors asks that his $35,000 be used in furthering intellectual intercourse between the two countries, particularly the printing of important Swedish works not yet translated into English.

It would be a good thing if American philonthropists were more inclined to encourage that sort of thing. We have plenty of rich men interested in old and rare books, however intrinsically worthless they may be, and willing to pay high prices for them. How many have we who will give money to make available new books of real value, and give the best thinking and writing international currency?

DEATH PREVENTION.

We have a National Defense Day and a Fire Prevention Week, observes Dr. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., yet we lack something more important. Why not have a Death Prevention Week?

What he has in mind is what all intelligent physicians are urging nowadays, frequent and regular physical examinations, to discover the weak spots in one's physique and get after them before it is too late.

American physicians nowadays are out of the "pill peddling class," says Dr. Mayo. They are interested less in giving medicine than in preventing disease. There ought to be a week set apart for physical inventory. If that cannot be done, he suggests that every person over 20 should take an hour out of every birthday to have the family doctor go over him and report his condition, with recommendations for improvements and repairs.

If that were done, says Dr. Mayo, the doctor's advice were followed, we might grow old gracefully and live to 100.

RELIGIOUS AGREEMENT.

"To what avail is all the present rivalry of creeds?" asks Henry Morgenthau, former ambassador to Turkey, speaking to the Union of American Hebrews.

"How much better it would be if all believers in the Divine Force should freely share their treasures and cooperate with one another and open their hearts to brotherly love."

He is right, of course. Everybody will agree to that. Every faith enjoins love and tolerance. Every religious group is in favor of tolerance. Only—everybody expects the other fellow to practice the tolerance.

We can agree with all the rest if they will come to accept our own creed. That is how liberal most people are.

Anyhow, Panama is still on our side.

Nobody hollers so loud about bad government as the fellow who didn't vote.

Every time there's an international crisis, we all learn a little more geography.

Action and reaction are equal, and the yellow race wakes up as the white race goes to sleep.

Some of us wouldn't mind a bit having an oil concession in Mexico, even for only 50 years.

"Boys enjoy invitin' somebody to a party, but what girls enjoy most is not invitin' somebody."

"Copyright, 1925, Pub's Syndicate."

After a lot of unnecessary talk in the United States senate a resolution is passed offering to arbitrate the differences with Mexico and Secretary Kellogg announces he is pleased. Mexico also seems to like the idea. If everybody is willing, that is the sensible thing to do. The administration has undoubtedly learned in no uncertain terms that the people of this country do not want to be plunged into war because a few oil operators and financiers want to run Mexico as a side line.

What Other Editors Say

Watch Your Fires.

During this extremely cold weather the greatest care and caution to prevent fire should be taken by everyone. During weather like this, furnaces and stoves are taxed to their capacity, and need more careful attention than in ordinary weather. Then the streets are covered with snow and are slick and houses situated on high elevations are not easy of access by the fire department, and there is more danger of loss of fire than in ordinary times. It always pays to be very cautious in regard to fires, and to be ever watchful.

When property burns, there is an absolute loss, no matter if the owner carrier insurance to cover his loss, there is just that much less property. The old adage, "An ounce of preventative is worth a pound of cure" should be borne in mind in regard to heating our obses during weather of this kind.—Hannibal Courier-Post.

The World's Greatest.

One of the most famous remarks of William James was that "The purpose of a good education is to enable a person to know a good man when he sees one." The vote conducted among the school children of many countries for the twelve greatest men and women of the world offers a very interesting and encouraging comment on that definition.

It is estimated that about a thousand schools and half a million students took part in the selection of the names of heroes and a large number took part in the competition for essays written on these heroes. It is notable that all of the twelve names selected by vote of the school children are those who might very reasonably be called "heroes of peace." The only actual soldier included is George Washington.

Votes were taken in thirteen counties of Europe as well as the United States, Canada and Mexico. The names of the twelve people selected as the world's greatest are given here in the order of votes received:

Louis Pasteur, Abraham Lincoln, Christopher Columbus, George Washington, Benjamine Franklin, Woodrow Wilson, Florence Nightingale, Joan of Arc, Socrates, Johann Gutenberg, David Livingston, George Stephenson.—Northwestern Advocate.

The old-fashioned farm wife, who took her eggs and butter to the grocery to exchange for sugar, would rub her eyes to read that the Minnesota egg crop is second in importance, yielding a revenue of $40,000,000, which ranks ahead of wheat and is exceeded only by corn. Minnesota hens contributed 87,191,842 eggs the first half of this year to stem the agricultural depression.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Lafe Dawson and C. A. Anthony have formed a co-partnership for the practice of the law, under the name and style of Dawson & Anthony. These gentlemen are so well known to the people of Nodaway county, and northwest Missouri, for their eminent legal attainments, that any extended notice at our hands would seem to be superfluous. Suffice it to say, that a stronger combination and abler legal firm could not have been formed from the bar of this city. Messrs. Dawson and Anthony will occupy the former law office of C. A. Union township assessment as taken by J. C. Pistole, assessor, gives personal property assessment as $91,108; number of acres of land in township, 25,178, value $227,580; grand total $318,688.

Independence township assessment as taken by J. L. Hepburn, township assessor, shows personal property of $76,365, and real estate of $303,679.

The census of Lincoln township as furnished by R. R. Cross, township assessor, gives the total white population there as 1512.

The census return of Nodaway County shows our population to be 23,134. This is an increase of 6701 over the census of 1870. Not a bad showing this. The population by township follows:

Polk, 5045; Hopkins, 1702; Union, 1152; Inupendence, 1160; Atchison, 1160; Nodaway, 1243; Lincoln, 1523; Green, 1960; Hughes, 2375; White Cloud, 1372; Grant, 1411; Washington, 809; Jefferson, 943; Jackson, 1279.

On last Friday night as County Attorney John Edwards was returning from Graham to Maryville with a horse and buggy, he came near being frozen to death. Mr. Edwards left Graham at about dusk. The night was very cold and dark and he had to face a strong wind from the northeast, with more or less snow in the air. Before he had gotten far from Graham he began to get very cold and came to the conclusion that he had undertaken rather a perilous journey. About half-way between Graham and Maryville, he was fast losing the use of his arms and legs, being chilled through. He finally stopped at the hospitable residence of Jacob Charles, who resides in Hughes township. He was almost frozen and could hardly move his legs or arms. He remained there over night and returned to Maryville the next morning.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER.
NEA Service Writer.

Washington.—Davey Jones has taken away the ideal sailor of the coast guard—one who had helped rob this same Davey Jones of many another prospective victim.

When the coast guard supply schooner Lincoln burned and sank off the North Carolina coast recently with a loss of four men, she carried with her Coxswain William H. Allston. Rescuer by profession, he found none when his own hour of need arrived.

You may have seen his picture on posters used for recruiting purposes. Just as the navy and the marine corps have selected their ideal gobs and devildogs for exhibition purposes, so did the coast guard pick Allston.

You may have seen him at the coast guard exhibit at the Sesquicentennial exposition. Of the picked crew which manned the exhibit and gave demonstrations of the guard's work, Allston was chosen as the ideal type of guardsman on account of his good record, his skill and his fine physical appearance. The guard was mighty proud of him.

Now the distinction of being the "best all-around coast guardsman" is vacant. Some day the high officers will pick a new one, but they say there's no hurry about it.

Four of the Lincoln's crew of eight were lost when she went down off Cape Lookout. Another victim was Churfa Erlingson, an outstanding officer of the service. Erlingson put life-preservers on the younger men. Sailors on the British ship Defender, standing by helpless in heavy seas, saw the four doomed men still on deck after their mast had toppled over. One of the survivors was in the water 36 hours before being picked up.

Replaces "Ma"

Texas has gone back to the idea of having a "first lady" who confines her activities to first lady-ing, and doesn't try to govern—and here she is, Mrs. Dan Moody, wife of the new governor, who takes "Ma" Ferguson's place, is shown in the gown she wore at her husband's inaugural ball at Austin.

What Jerry Says

I ate half of a mince pie,
Before I went to bed,
The (grape juice) that my wife had used,
Seemed going to my head.

So once again the dream was changed,
And new scenes came again,
I was at the intersection,
Of Third street and of Main.

Three hundred automobiles,
Were parked around the square,
And the farmers they belonged to,
Were also standing there.

They told me they were busted,
But, judging by their looks,
And by the fancy cars they drove,
They had fat pocketbooks.

Their wives and charming daughters,
Were dressed in stylish clothes,
Their hair was bobbed and marcelled,
And all wore silken hose.

I dreamed there was a meeting
To be held in Maryville,
To pass some resolutions,
On the Haugen McNary bill.

So I mingled with the farmers,
That I might hear and see,
And followed to the court room
Where the meet as to be.

As I took a bench among them,
I heard one farmer say,
"This room looks like a hog pen,
It wouldn't do for hay."

"I have a cleaner floor than this
"To feed my thin rinds on,"
"I'll bet these benches have been here,
"Since eighteen eighty one."

The other said "'Twould hardly do
"To hold a monthly sale,
"But for the circuit court room,
"It smells most awful stale."

The chairman rapped for order,
But before he took his chair,
Said "please open up the windows,
We've got to have fresh air."

"These people here in Maryville
"May be used to such a stink,
"But farmers as a rule must have
"Much purer air, I think.

"Before we start discussion
"On any pending bill,
"We should discuss a cleaner place,
"To meet in Maryville.

And once again the scene was changed
And I was on the farms,
The pigs were squealing for their feed,
Calves bawling for their "marms,"
The eggs had not been gathered,
Hoot owls were a hootin',
While farmers and their families,
Were in town a resolutin'.

By this time all the bad effect,
Of pie had worn away,
I opened up my eyes, and lo,
It was another day.

Visited At Gallatin.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. (Pert) Elders came down from Maryville yesterday between trains for a short visit with old home town relatives and friends. Pert continues to be the "handy man" around the Haines store, and from Pert's finished appearance we'd imagine he is about indispensable around the store. Mr. and Mrs. Elders called to have their subscription date advanced.—Gallatin North Missourian.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Fosket of Tarkio were Maryville visitors yesterday. Their daughter, Miss Florine Williams, attends the State Teachers College.

Another Letter to Jerry.

Editor Democrat-Forum and Tribune:

And now Jerry, let's have one about the economy program suggested by our county officials whereby the office of our county agent might be discontinued.

You, of course know, Jerry, that this is not an agricultural community and what few people here are still engaged in agricultural pursuits have advanced to a stage of learning and science where a county agent can be of no further service. Who knows, perhaps by careful investigation, we might be able to close up a school or two.

Whatever we do, Jerry, let's economize.

F. A. BUSH.

Over Northwest Missouri

A Queer Coon.

Billy Miller trapped a queer coon Monday night and it was brought to town Tuesday by Herman Murray and Bart Miller. It looked like a cross between a fox and coon. It had a blue and pink eye, a reddish brown skin with ringed tail and weighed 12-15 pounds. Charley McQuigg says it's just a freak raccoon—so that goes.—Worth County Tribune.

Lon Wilson in Wreck.

Lon Wilson, teacher and coach at the Ridgeway high school, and Mrs. Wilson, escaped injury of any kind late Friday evening when their Ford roadster turned over and left the pavement on the Jefferson Highway 1½ miles north of Bethany. The car came to rest off an embankment at the west side of the road, on the Big creek bottom a few rods south of the Fred Coffman home. Its top was smashed, along with the windshield, and the left rear wheel was broken down.

The accident came when the roadster skidded on the pavement, which was slippery from the recent snow. It is impossible to explain how Mr. and Mrs. Wilson failed to receive injuries.

Considerable difficulty was encountered in righting the roadster and getting it up the embankment, even though a crane was being used. It was brought here for repairs.—Bethany Republican.

Fancy Dress Tabco at School Parties.

Fancy dress will be taboo at student entertainments of Trenton High school in the future, Principal W. H. McDonald said today announcing a new policy for class parties.

The plan was presented at a student assembly and adopted by an overwhelming majority. In the future elaborate outfits will be out of place at class functions.

The new mode was decided upon as an effort to keep all students activities as democratic as they are intended to be, Mr. McDonald said, the principal pointing out that the wearing of fancy dress by some students often makes others, who cannot afford smart costumes, feel out of place, and this frequently causes many to stay away from class parties.

Parents also should be able to save money through the plan to discourage competition in wearing of expensive clothes at school affairs, Mr. McDonald said.—Trenton Republican.

Cleaning Courthouse Walls.

County court is having the walls of the court house cleaned this week and Dal Kimberling is plastering them where needed, especially Judge Benson's office where half the ceiling is off. A marked improvement may be noted as they have not been decorated since the first time in 1899—28 years ago.—Worth County Tribune.

Fatal Hunting Accidents.

Fatal hunting accidents in Harrison county on Friday and Sunday took the lives of two boys, one of them the victim of the accidental discharge of his own brother's gun, the other of his own. They were John Henry Kabel, 17 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Kabel of Washington Center, and Darrel Williams, 13 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Les Williams of New Hampton.

Darrel Williams was killed instantly Sunday afternoon on his father's farm one mile south of New Hampton, when a load from a shotgun in the hands of his brother, Kermit, 15 years old, entered his chest and struck his heart.

John Henry Kabel was fatally wounded about 5:00 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Marion Davis farm, south of Washington Center, and died at 5:00 o'clock the next morning at the Missouri Methodist hospital, where an operation was performed in an attempt to save his life.—Bethany Republican.

Ban Nipples for Babies.

Mexico City, Jan. 22.—The sale or use of rubber nipples as pacifiers for babies is now prohibited by law in the Federal District, after a year of campaigning against the practice by the health authorities. The "chupones" are regarded as a serious factor in the high infant mortality rate in Mexico City.

This and That

The Maryville High School basketball teams apparently have many staunch supporters. But they stay at home—at least many do—when there is a home game.

This inference was reached last night by the number of telephone calls received at the Democrat-Forum and Tribune office inquiring as to the result of the Kansas City DeMolay-Spoofhound game. With the High School students out in good force for the closely contested struggle there was a fair-sized crowd at the game, but there were lots of empty seats.

The basketball schedule arranged by Coach Croy for the High School basketeers is a very ambitious one, and he has arranged to bring to Maryville the best there is in high school basketball teams this season.

The Spoofhounds play the Cameron five tonight at the local gymnasium. This will give the Maryville fans a chance to demonstrate their loyalty by presenting themselves at the gate in greater numbers.

Bill Studer says spring is coming because there is so much poetry in the papers lately.

Mrs. Bessie Reid and family went to California last September intending to stay if they liked it. They took the family pup. Returning a few days ago they shipped the pup back by express. The next morning after their return they opened the door and there stood the pup. Later in the day an express driver delivered another pup in a crate. "That is not our dog," said Mrs. Reid. The driver insisted it was. Whereupon Mrs. Reid produced the family pup. The driver then admitted the pup had got out of the crate the night before and the men at the office went out and rounded up the first dog they could find and crated it.—Hopkins Journal.

—Missouri Outlaw.

Did you ever wonder why a hen moves its head back and forth when it walks?

The answer to the question—like the answer to many other questions—is that it is not so, writes Edwin E. Sloson, director of Science Service, in Collier's. The fowl does not move its head backward. It only moves its head forward, and then walks ahead until the head gets left behind and has to be brought up again with a jerk.

For the explanation of this curious movement I am indebted to a Collier's correspondent, Martin A. Mikesh of Jersey City, an engineer who was born on a farm and so takes an interest in the mechanics of chickens.

"The general opinion, where thought has advanced to that stage, is that the head motion is for balancing purposes. Close analysis of the movement shows that the head moves forward only, remaining fixed with respect to the ground at points when it appears to bob backward.

"A useful scientific principle enters into this. In the fixed position the eyes are focused on the surrounding territory in search of food; it is most natural, too. The interrupted movements add up to a continuous careful survey on both sides, and the balancing feature becomes merely a by-product of the indexing mechanism. The same principle applies to other domestic fowl and many other birds."

U. S. Soldiers in China Thank Red Cross Chapter Here

Three letters have been received from United States soldiers in acknowledgment of the Christmas bags which the local Red Cross chapter sent out. The bags were donated by the Royal Neighbor Lodge. Maryville merchants and other persons contributed the contents. Each bag had ten articles.

The letters were from E. E. Leak, R. H. Raymer and Eugene C. Croyle, all of the 15th U. S. Infantry, stationed at Tientsin, China. The latter's letter follows:

Headquarters Company, 15th U. S. Infantry, Tientsin, China.
December 29, 1926.

"Nodaway County Chapter

Maryville, Missouri.

"Received your Christmas bag undamaged, and wish to thank you for the same. It brought the feeling that we are not so far from home, and are not forgotten. You know many of us have no homes and have lost all contact with the outside world, so you can be assured that all the bags were appreciated, and that some of them at least went to the troops fartherest from U. S. A.

"If anyone in your Chapter would care to hear about China or receive photos from here, I will gladly answer their letters.

"Respectfully yours,
"EUGENE C. CROYLE."

Bootlegger of Grape Juice Newest Menace

Vendor Sells Pure Product, Then Helps Customers Make It Into Illegal Wine.

Washington.—Prohibition authorities have discovered a new enemy—the grape juice bootlegger.

Treasury officials explain that this new type of illegal vendor buys large quantities of pure grape juice from California, pours it into casks and sells it. Later he visits his customers and treats the grape juice with air and chemicals converting the heretofore innocent contents of the cask into rich wine.

Officials said it was difficult to apprehend this particular type of law breaker. He does not deal in intoxicating beverages directly, but merely does his customers a "friendly deed" free of charge. Government agents, however, are after the bootleggers for conspiracy to violate the Volstead law.

United States Leads in Salt Production

Washington, Jan. 22.—The United States is the world's leading salt producer, its 1925 output of 6,000,000 tons being about 30 per cent of the total world production, according to Department of Commerce statistics.

Figures for 1925 show that Germany is the largest exporter of salt, while British India is the biggest buyer of that commodity.

Michigan was the leading salt producing state in 1925, with New York following.

SPELLING BEE TO MARYVILLE

SOMERVILLE ON COMMITTEE IN CHARGE OF CONTEST.

STATE RULES GIVEN

Winners of District Meets Will Be Eligible to Finals at Jefferson City in April.

Leslie G. Somerville, county superintendent of schools, has been named on a committee that will have charge of the district spelling contests. Mr. Somerville received this information yesterday in a communication from Chas. A. Lee, state superntendent of schools.

The district spelling contest will be held in Maryville in the spring, the time to be decided by the committee named by Superintendent Lee. Other members of the committee were not mentioned in Mr. Lee's letter to Mr. Somerville.

Although there will be no general Nodaway County spelling contest, there will be some representatives from the county to represent the rural and high schools, as some of the schools are planning to have contests in their own schools so that they may compete with others, in order that the county representatives can be certified by Mr. Somerville to the district contest.

Mr. Lee sent Mr. Somerville rules for the state contest to be held in Jefferson City, to be held the latter part of April, according to tentative arrangements.

The winners of all district contests will be eligible to compete in the state contest, for which the following rules have been adopted:

Rules for State Spelling Contest.

1. All applicants will be given numbers one to six. These numbers will be the only identification marks on the papers of the contestants.

2. A short list of not more than twenty five words will be pronounced as preliminary exercise before the contest proper begins.

3. Only contestants with the pronouncer and two disinterested county superintendents will be permitted in the rooms while contest is in progress.

4. Contestants will be graded on correct spelling of words given out. The New International Dictionary 1925 edition will be the standard for correct spelling of words. No pupil will be counted out of the contest until the words missed has been checked by said dictionary for correct spelling.

5. Doubtful formation of letter will be counted against contestants.

6. A list of two hundred words for the grade and rural division and three hundred for the high school division will be given in groups of twenty-five. In case of tie additional groups of fifty will be given to all pupils until tie is removed.

All papers written by contestants are to be kept by committees, but pupils may see the words they misspelled at close of contest. No papers are to be taken from room.

M. H. S. Commercial Club Holds Meeting

Three New Members Taken In Organization; Members Are Given Questions To Solve.

The Commercial Club of the Maryville High School met on Wednesday of this week. For a program, slips of paper were given to each member of the club, and they were to answer the question on this paper. Some of the questions were as follows:

Suppose that on the Fourth of July as you were leaving on an excursion with a party of friends, a call came for you to report immediately at the office for some important rush work, what would you do?

Suppose while your employer was out of the city for several days visiting the factory and you were in charge of the office, a customer from a distance unexpectedly called to purchase a silo or some other device of commerce that had to be made to order, what would you do?

Suppose for some good reason you were delayed in reaching the office one morning of the first week you were employed by a firm and the president, a man who would accept no explanation for tardiness, happened to call for you before your arrival, how would you solve the predicament?

Three new members were taken in the club and the meeting adjourned to meet the next Wednesday, January 26.

The Magic Carpet of the 20th Century

(By Miss Mildred Sandison.)

Editor's Note: "The Magic Carpet of The Twentieth Century," which fallows, was written by Miss Mildred Sandison, a junior of the Maryville High School. Each chapter is the theme of a Latin notebook she has compiled which shows much time and research on her part. The story is novel and places a strong conviction on the practicality of a Latin course. C. A. Hawkins, of the State Teachers College faculty has offered the highest commendation to the notebook of the girl student. Miss Sandison is a third year Latin student. The teacher is Mrs. Virgil Rathbun.

The four honor students of the graduating class of May, 1926, were four year Latin students. They were Frances Remus, Verneta Moore, Ralph Graves and Audrey Linthicum. The honor graduates of the January, 1927 class are four year Latin students. They are Mildred Wiles and Alice Swinford.

"What IS the Magic Carpet of the Twentieth Century?" mused Peggy. "Surely Maryville as well as Bagdad has one. Is it the airplane or " her mind toyed with the fancy. What is more conducive to fancy than a low, comfortable chair before an open fireplace—a book of tales at one's right and a box of candy at one's left? Peggy lounged in the comfortable chair, gazed at the dancing flames, and munched a chocolate while she thoughtfully considered what she had just read. The book at her right was the Arabian Night Tales, and it was the story of the Magic Carpet of Bagdad which had led her thoughts into the channel they now pursued. Her revery was interrupted by a voice from the adjoining room:

"Margaret, have you gotten all your lessons yet? It's bed time and—"

"All but my Caesar, Mother. I just CAN'T translate that. And, Mother, don't call me 'Margaret.' You know how I dislike it. Can't you remember to call me 'Peggy'?"

"All right, Marg—Peggy. I'll try to remember. Really, though, work as fast as you can on that Caesar. It's time you were in bed!"

"It isn't a bit late," insisted Peggy fretfully, "but I'll try to get this old stuff! I wish I never had heard of Caesar. He has spoiled my entire evening. These other stories are keen but Caesar is as dry as dust! I wish I hadn't taken Latin, that's what!" Impatiently she threw her Latin book to the floor. As her mother left the room, a smile hovered about her lips, a smile in which tolerance, amusement, and distress were mingled. She, too, had suffered several years of Latin.

Sighing deeply, Peggy picked the book from the floor and read: "'Divisiacus multis cum lacrimis Caesarem—' Oh, I simply cannot get it. That's all there is to it. I'll get it in the morning!" Again the book was thrown to the floor, and she emphasized each word by kicking vehemently the book at her feet. Having mistreated the book sufficiently to restore her good humor, she was soon reading the book which was NOT Caesar, and causing the chocolates to disappear at a marvelous rate.

Minutes—sixty of them—flew by. The clock struck eleven, yet Peggy, eagerly perusing the book, did not hear. The fire was a bank of embers but Peggy was unaware of such a minor detail. "How perfectly wonderful," she sighed rapturously, "how absolutely glorious! SURELY there is a Magic Carpet of the Twentieth Century. Who knows where to find it? Perhaps I shall!"

A voice, clear as a bell, answered her: "I can tell you where to find the Magic Carpet."

"Please do," entreated Peggy, surprised that she was not at all frightened. "But first won't you tell me who you are and where you are. I can't see you."

"Here I am—right in front of you. Look down. See." She beheld a tiny figure, about twelve inches high. The miniature man (for despite his size, Peggy decided that he was a "sure 'nuff" man) wore a gay suit of red velvet. As he danced about, in front of the bewildered girl, his silver slippers sparkled like diamonds. In fact, he greatly resembled the picture of an elf which had adorned the frontispiece of an old story book which was a discarded friend of Peggy's little-girl days.

(To Be Continued).

Located in this small town is a Consolidated High School and Grade School. The schools are first class. There is also a very nice gymnasium, which is used to play volley ball, basketball and other games. Miss Larrian Hathaway is superintendent, Miss Marie Turner, principal and there is also another teacher. There are only fifteen in high school. Some of the pupils are brought to school in a school truck, others are taken from home. The teachers are all from the college at Maryville and have good educations. The superintendent receives $1800 a year, and the principal $1500. They have the studies which most schools have and also study typewriting and sewing.—Barnard Hill Top Herald.

ANNUAL ROOM LIKE BEEHIVE

M. H. S. YEARBOOK STAFF IS HARD AT WORK.

WILL SELL TO PUBLIC

With Students Having Subscribed Well, Campaign in Town Will Start Monday.

The staff room of the "Maryvillian", the annual publication of the Maryville High School is a regular bee hive of industry. The days are going rapidly and the year book must be "done and sealed" within the next sixteen weeks.

When the high school reporter stepped into the room to see how things were getting along with the publication, the persistent industry and encouraging smiles of Edwyna Forsyth, editor, and Carl LeRoy Fisher, business manager, showed they had something to tell the public about their work and the problems before them in getting out the student publication.

The annual this year has brought trials and tribulations no other year book staff has had. With obstacles before them and more time needed for mapping out of ideas, these two members of the staff are giving a large measure of their time to the success of the 1927 annual. Many students can testify that lights frequently are burning in the annual room at 6 o'clock in the evening.

The second sale of the books will be started Monday morning. The limit has been sold among the students of the high school and the forthcoming drive will be made among business men and townspeople.

Says Editor Forsyth:

"The average business man questions, 'What good is an annual?' But to Mr. Businessman, I say an annual is a mark of school progress; a mark of community progress. The staff, realizing that the Maryville High School is not only the student's but the people's school, asks outside support. Interest on the part of the townsmen should be created. The book is one link between the school and the community. The book should pass into the hands of the grown-up folks as a record of the school year as well as of the students.

"The staff is still smiling through," she declared. "The senior class of 1927 is going to do it well or die.

"The book will not be an expensive souvernir most people assume. It is not the work of the senior class alone but has the assistance of the school at large. It is a splendid record of what the classes of M. H. S. have done. The annual this year is going to be different, even the cover." Miss Forsyth laughingly remarked, "and there will be good food for thought for everybody.

"The result of next week's sale will be an evidence to the 1927 staff how the people feel toward the school project," the student editor said.

Carl LeRoy Fisher carries the purse with the annual funds—what they have—and Editor Forsyth ties the string about it. Both have a pleasant outlook on life although financial worry is no little matter of the job. Eighty-five per cent of the work is getting the money and fifteen per cent of the work is getting the book out on the money derived. That is the way the job looks to the business manager. Ideas are plentiful and money scarce.

"Few people realize what trouble the staff of 1927 has had in financing this year's book. The main source of revenue is derived from the sale of the book and will cover about two-thirds the cost of the publication. So far the students of the high school have backed the book very well," Fisher stated, "but where we have lost is from the townspeople.

"We believe our sale Monday will be a success because we have faith in the backing the business men will give," he said.

Both members of the staff expressed their appreciation at the interest the Democrat-Forum and Tribune has taken from time to time in the student enterprise.

When the chat ended, the two joined in on the chorus, "To Do It Or Die."

WHAT HAS HAPPENED BEFORE:

By means of a plot engineered by James Mulholland and five aides, Ames, Chester, Fenne, Quantrill and Vereker, Robert Masterton is sentenced to Atlanta. While there, Vereker, who has been sentenced on another charge, reveals, while dying, the names of the plotters on Masterton's promise not to invoke the law but to take vengeance into his own hands. Masterton is in love with Cynthia Knowles, a rich and beautiful young woman. Her faith in him shattered, she marries Mulholland. On her wedding day she gets an anonymous note accusing her husband of the plot to railroad Masterton to jail. Masterton's grandfather dies and leaves him six million dollars. He is freed. Back in New York he gives Sadie Hicks, hungry and out of a job, a position as his private secretary. He meets Cynthia, refuses to allow her to blame herself for her lack of faith in him and tells her she is the only woman he will ever love. Fenne offers information to Masterton who goes to his room. Chester calling the next morning finds Fenne murdered. Quantrill, Ames and Chester begin to fear Masterton's vengeance. Fenne is declared a suicide and the conspirators plan to make an ally of Talbot, Masterton's valet. Ames has a talk with Talbot. Ames offers Talbot $5,000 for certain papers regarding Fenne which he thinks Masterton has in his possession. Ames finds himself face to face with Masterton on a houseboat.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER 23

The Voice in the Dark.

Masterton slightly moved the paper with which he had been shielding his eyes, bringing it against the chimney of the lamp, and blew suddenly. The flame gave a smoky flicker and died, plunging the cabin into blackness.

"Cell 237 was nearly as dark as this," said Masterton.

Completely taken by surprise, Ames caught his breath and stepped quickly back till he could feel the wall behind him, his right hand gripping the pistol butt convulsively. He listened, all his senses alert, and heard a faint rustle, then silence.

Ames was not devoid of courage; thus far he had felt not the least fear, but rather a blind ferocity, a recklessness of consequences. But this inky darkness, and the deadly uncertainty of what was coming next, shook his nerve and made his scalp tingle.

Also, by moving since the extinction of the lamp, he had lost all sense of direction.

Masterton's voice spoke out of the dark.

"Don't be afraid, you have not lost me," he said, cool and unruffled. "The door is bolted—the key is in my pocket. By the way, Ames, can you shoot by sound? My voice may give you some sense of direction, though I warn you it is very deceptive—"

The report of Ames' pistol made a shattering roar; in that confined space, hemmed in by damp wooden walls it was like a cannon shot and nearly split the ear drums . . . . it was as though the roof had fallen in.

Listening tensely, his thumb cocking the hammer, Ames could hear nothing but the beating of his own heart.

"A wide shot," said the voice in the gloom. This time it seemed to come from his left, and Ames turned slowly. It appeared to him that the voice moved also.

"This, my dear Ames, illustrates the old riddle of our childhood . . . . 'Where was Moses?'"

The revolver spat viciously. Ames' ears were ringing, his nostrils stung and tingled with the aerid powder smoke, his throat was hot and dry. He changed his position swiftly, listening. He heard a faint noise, and with a thrill of satisfaction guessed that he had not failed.

But, again came the voice from the gloom, now sounding distant and muffled as though from a cellar.

"The luck is not with you. Has it occurred to you, Ames, that the flash of your pistol gives you away? You should move after you have fired. Try once more. . . . ."

Two tongues of flame stabbed out in rapid succession, followed by a gasp and the sound of a fall. Then blackness and silence.

James Mulholland lay down the letter he had been reading, and looked across the room at his wife. A gleam of sun struggling through the window of the morning room lit up her hair like an aureole, and touched the soft curve of her neck.

"Are you using the car this morning, Cynthia?" he asked deferentially.

"Do you want it?" said Cynthia. "You know it is always at your orders. I can take a taxi. I am getting another car, so there will always be one for you."

"I couldn't dream of letting you take taxis while I had the car," he said. "Where are you going, Cynthia?"

"To my dressmaker's—to a dozen places," she said, "why?"

"Couldn't I come with you?" suggested Mulholland appealingly. Cynthia looked at him in surprise.

"What earthly good would it do you to be dancing attendance on me?" she asked. "It is not in the least like you. Do you want to be seen about New York with me?"

"Apart from the pleasure it would give me," said Mulholland, "it would be a kindness, and a help to me. People are beginning to speak to me as a man who, though so recently married, is never seen in his wife's company. Curious things are whispered about me behind my back. One wonders what crime I have committed. Am I still on my defense, Cynthia?"

She sat silent, disquieted. Mulholland rose from his chair, and came nearer to her. Cynthia shrank, almost imperceptibly.

"Life is a difficult thing, Cynthia," he said, "people should try to make it easy for each other."

"Do I make it difficult for you?"

"No," he replied sadly. "Your behavior is irreproachable. But are you being just to me?"

"I am fulfilling my share of our compact," said Cynthia. And as she said it she felt a pang of doubt, and of pity for him.

Was she treating him justly? After all, she had consented to this marriage; she had taken Mulholland's name for her own. Despite her own pain she was conscious of a deep sympathy for Mulholland. It seemed to her he was ageing day by day. It was as though the shadows were deepening over him.

She looked up at him as he stood there, handsome, commanding, a man of mark, and of power and brains. He was not a man that any woman could ignore. But when that longing look came into his eyes, she felt no sympathy, but a revolt that was almost beyond her power to conceal. She had seen comparatively little of it lately however. For the past five days he had been curiously silent, and grim and anxious.

Cynthia rose fro mher chair.

"I will do anything I can to help you," she said, "if you will tell me quite frankly what you mean."

"By all means. To whom can a man speak frankly—if not to his wife?"

"I do not think frankness is one of your qualities," said Cynthia, "but tell me this—what are these curious things that you say are being whispered?"

"Since Robert Masterton's release, some curious lies and rumors have been set afloat. I know they are growing all the time. There are cowards who love to spread that kind of rumor. You have been very loyal to me Cynthia, if not very merciful. You are generous always. Are you generous enough to help me?"

She had turned away, her face paler.

"You have told me the charge against you isn't true—that there was no truth in it at all,' she said. "Never mind what others say; show me that that is so, and there is no help I will not give you, no surrender I will not make. It will be for me to ask mercy of you, then."

"It is the most difficult thing in the world, to prove a negative," he said quietly. "Don't you realize that?"

Before he could answer, a man servant opened the door.

"You are wanted on the telephone, sir," he said.

Mulholland left the room at once. He did not ask whose the call was. Chester's voice reached him over the wire.

"That you Jim?"

"Yes."

"Still no news of Ames?"

"None whatever."

"Nor of—R. M.?"

"None."

Chester's voice was low and scarcely audible.

"Something very queer is happening. Can you come round and see me? A detective has just been here—"

"I will come at once."

As he left the room the lines about his mouth seemed to grow deeper, the harrassed look in his eyes became more marked.

It was now five days since anything had been heard of Gerald Ames, by his ex-partners. He had passed out of their ken in the most complete and uncompromising manner; their difficulty was that they did not know where, at the last, he had gone, nor in what direction. This was causing them considerable diquiet. It was not like Ames to have been so secretive.

Mulholland was making for his dressing-room; the man-servant, coming up the staircase with a card on a tray, stopped him.

"This gentleman wishes to see you urgently sir; I showed him into the hall sitting-room. What answer shall I give?"

Mulholland glanced at the card. He paused for a moment, dismissed the servant, and went downstairs. His visitor, who was Hector McCall, rose as he entered.

When Lita Got That $4,000 a Month Alimony

This picture was taken in the corridor of the Los Angeles courts building just after Lita Grey Chaplin had won the first round of her legal tilt with her famous husband, Charlie Chaplin, by getting an allowance of $4,000 a month alimony. Mrs. Chaplain (left) and her mother, Mrs. Lillian Spicer, are shown surrounded by Mrs. Chaplin's attorneys. They are: No. 1, William K. Young; No. 2, Milton K. Young; No. 3 Edwin T. McMurray; No. 4, Lyndol Young.

"Jelly" Bullet Stuns Victim, Then Melts and Heals

Worcester, Mass., Jan. 22.—The "jelly bullet" is the latest thing in ammunition.

The bullet and the gun from which it is shot are the inventions of Reginald J. Alden, former Clark University student.

In a public demonstration here it was shown that the "jelly bullet" would render its victim unconscious and then dissolve, leaving a clean and harmless wound because of the bullet's antiseptic qualities.

Hints and Helps for Farmers

by Ross J. Fleetwood, County Extension Agent

I spent three days this week at Farmers' Week in Columbia. The attendance was somewhat short of last year but considering the weather the attendance was good. Central Missouri was covered with a heavy snow all week and this added to the extremely cold weather made it impossible for a great number to attend. The College authorities and the State Board of Agriculture officials are considering a change of dates for Farmers' Week next year. I am sure that any of these officials would appreciate suggestions on a satisfactory date.

Professor Weaver gave a very interesting talk on feeding hogs. He stated that it is doubtful if there is any feed cheaper and more satisfactory for hogs than corn and tankage, the tankage to be supplemented with alfalfa hay and oil meal. Cottonseed meal as yet is not recommended for feeding hogs; however, some new experiments are in progress to determine if there is any possible way of feeding cottonseed meal in place of or supplemented to linseed meal and tankage. Mr. Weaver stressed the careful feeding of brood sows from now until farrowing time.

The agricultural engineering department made the announcement that there would probably be no pyrotol to sell after this winter. If anyone is planning to use any of this material it must be ordered without delay.

Since cottonseed meal is so cheap in price, it can be economically fed to to steers this year. Yearlings can be fed up to 2 pounds per head daily. One pound of cottonseed meal will replace approximately 2½ pounds of corn. This is in addition to the more rapid grains and better finish secured.

Dr. A. J. Durant stated, in a lecture on baby chicks diseased, during Farmers' Week, that the majority of baby chick losses were traceable to white diarrhea or raising chicks on unsanitary grounds. Therefore it would seem that planning to raise baby chicks on clean ground would help a lot. Arrangements should be made now to insure clean ground. It is recommended that the grounds be used only once in three years. This would require three fields which could be used for chickens. The field which was used last year should not be used until 1928. He stated that even though the brooder house was build on a firm concrete foundation it would pay to put it on runners and leave the foundation as a monument to past endeavors. If the house is placed on runners it can easily be moved from one field to another and thus avoid to a large degree the enormous losses in chicks due to round worms, tape worms and coccidosis.

Mr. Durant advised against giving treatment for worms when hens are in heavy production. Only when the birds aren't laying well should they receive treatment for tape worms; he recommends one gram of Kamala to each adult bird to be given in a No. 000 capsule. These capsules contains exactly one gram). For round worms he recommends using one pound, 2 per cent nicotine, tobacco dust to each 50 pounds of mash. Feed this mixture for 4 weeks, stop for a week then feed another 4 weeks. Only a small amount of mash, enough for three or four weeks, should be mixed at one time for the nicotine in the tobacco dust is volatile and the strength rapidly diminishes. It will last for three or four days.

Burlington Junction

By J. Howard Thompson.

The time is slowly approaching for the greatest musical event ever given in this part of the county, namely, the cantata to be given on the night of February 10, by a chorus of thirty trained voices of the Methodist Church in the church under the leadership of Mrs. Vern Caldwell. Supplimentary to the music feature of the program an address on Lincoln will be given by the Rev. Dr. Calhoun, a leading Presbyterian divine of Council Bluffs, Ia.

The Hi-Y Club, a society of young men connected with the High School, entertained at the High School building Thursday night, having as their guests, Prof. H. B. Rutledge, superintendent of the High School, Berry Hann, a former graduate of the High School, and the Rev. J. Howard Thompson, the pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church. One hour and a half as spent in interesting and unique games, which provided much fun and laughter, in which the English Bull Pup, of Prof. Rutledge had a very vital part, seemingly enjoying the fun fully as much as any one present. After the games were over luncheon consisting of hamberger sandwiches, pie and coffee was served. The officers of the club are: President, Sherman Ware; secretary, Alva Ragsdale; and treasurer, Reginold Johnson. Those present, aside from the special guests were Sherman Ware, George Mands, Philip Good, Maurice Severs, Charles Moore, Alva Ragsdale, Clarence Yates, Clinton Westfall, Earle Sims, Robert Nicholas.

Mrs. Rosa Martin and her three sons, Albert, Elbert, and Gilbert Harry, were called to Mound City Friday to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Zoe Feil. Mrs. Feil was a sister-in-law of Mrs. Martin, her husband being Mrs. Martin's brother.

Highway number 18 is soon to be surveyed, with a view of permanently locating it between Burlington Junction and Tarkio. This is good news to all concerned. It is thought the engineers will be here next week with their surveying outfits and will rush the surveying as rapidly as possible. The announcement is made that the work of permanently building across the river bottom west of town will begin early in the spring. Lester Crane, the Patrolman of this bit of road has succeeded in keeping the road in a fine state of repair, considering all he has had to contend with in the past four months.

The men of the Loraine neighborhood, west of town have been having a bit of fun all of their own. They staged their annual rabbit hunt Wednesday and separated themselves into two teams, one of seven men and the other of eight men, the first headed by Miles Ward, and the other headed by Irvin Fast. They then hied themselves to the rendezvous of the bunnie, with the result of bagging 186 rabbits, the Ward team getting 130 of that number and the Irvin Fast team 56. The fun then came in that the Irvin Fast team just had to "set em up" to the winners, and this was done in a very fine way. Not only the "hunt" but the feast was enjoyed by all participants.

Nodaway County, along with many other counties of the state is lining up heroically in a fight against the rapid approach of cancer. Dr. H. S. Dowell of Maryville is named as head of the campaign and the plan is to get all the propaganda possible against the disease. It really staggers one when we think that every eighth person who dies after they are forty, die of cancer. The general public must awaken and use every care possible, if the disease is to be halted and controlled. Let us give Dr. Dowell all the co-operative assistance possible.

The Page County Democrat, of Clarinda, Ia., has again been sold, the Lewis brothers, formerly of Burlington Junction, and recent owners of the plant, having disposed of their interest in the venture last week to A. B. Robinson, and A. P. Salgren. Stewart Lewis, has again gone to Kansas City, and secured a good position, but Edwin, the other partner, has not fully decided just where he will locate. He moved his household goods back to Burlington Junction last week and will make this his home temporarily, at least.

C. E. Pope of Maryville, salesman for the Maryville Light and Power Company, was in town Thursday looking after business and interviewing prospective customers for the various articles in stock. While here he placed a fine Electric cooking stove in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Fast.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reynolds, of Mankato, Kan., are here visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Carpenter and family. Mr. Reynolds and Mrs. Carpenter are brother and sister. They also have a sister, Mrs. Wilber Smith living in Pickering, and went to their home Friday to spend the day, and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Smith. Mr. Reynolds is salesman for the International Harvesting Company, having Kansas and Nebraska as his territory.

Mr. and Mrs. George Vance received the sad news a few days ago of the injury befalling their son, Charles Vance of Maryville, who is an employe of the Maryville Light and Power Company. He, with his men, were in Hopkins, unloading a car of poles for wiring, when in some way Mr. Vance was caught in such a way, as to break his leg between the knee and hip, and otherwise being badly bruised. He was rushed to the hospital in Maryville, where the fracture was reduced and where he was made as comfortable as possible. Mr. Vance is well and favorably known here in Burlington Junction, and his many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

The Rev. A. L. Ragsdale recently appeared before the assembly at the High School, and gave a very illuminating talk on "How We Got Our Bible." It is said the lecture was very greatly enjoyed not only by the student body but by the faculty as well. Visitors are always welcome at the assembly hour, which is every Tuesday, 10:00 a. m.

Prof. Claude Thompson of the High School faculty was called home on Tuesday of last week on account of the death of a relative living at Bedison, Mo. He attended the funeral Tuesday afternoon, and returned ready for his school duties Wednesday morning.

The Maple Hotel, has again changed hands, possession to be given soon. F. S. Patton, the present owner, has disposed of the property, to H. Beauchamp, a farmer of near Clarinda, and who will continue to operate it, as a public hostelry.

Burlington Junction is experiencing another cold wave, with very little prospect of a change for some days to come. The expected snow, which has been announced through the several weather bureaus in our neighboring communities, and over the radio, has thus far failed to materialize. We are perfectly content, however, to get along without it.

When these items will have been read by the public, the plastering will have been completed in the Methodist Church, and will within a very few days be ready for the finishing touches of the interior decorators. The pastor with his loyal people will then feel much delighted and gratified over the finished task.

The Rev. J. Howard Thompson, the pastor of the Methodist Church of Burlington Junction has the distinction of being the only pastor with in the bounds of the entire Missouri Conference, covering an area, reaching across the entire state east and west, and from Sedalia, Mo., to the Iowa line, in reaching the goal in the matter of subscriptions for the Central Christian Advocate, the official Church Paper for this District. The goal is one paper for every ten members of the Church.

Highway number 18, leading west of town, for a number of weeks earlier in the fall was utterly impassable on account of washouts, and low levels, but under the careful supervision, and painstaking work of Lester Crane, the patrolman, it is now one of the best kept highways in all this part of the country, and travelers over that way say it is now and has been for a number of weeks in the best of travel condition. Mr. Crane has been on the job every minute, rain or shine, hot or cold, and has finally won, in the making of a good road out of a badly mutilated one. He is the right man in the right place.

The sick seem to be holding their own these days. J. W. Bales, who suffered a stroke of paralysis, in August, is still confined to his room, but able to sit up a portion of each day. L. E. Miller, who has been under the doctors care for two months for stomach trouble, seems to be a little better, and is able to take a little nourishment, with good effect, and Mrs. Emma Taylor, who seemed to be sinking last Sunday, has rallied and is much better at this time, and Mrs. Snowhill, maintains the same strength that she has had for some days, and James Shores, convalescing from an attack of pneumonia will soon be out again.

M. H. S. TEAM UPSETS DOPE

HARD PLAYED GAME ENDS 20-18 FOR LOCALS.

EVEN ON FIELD GOALS

Failure at Free Throw Line Defeats Kansas Citians.—Another Strong Team Here Tonight.

Surpassing the fondest expectations of their most loyal supporters, the Maryville High School Spoofhounds last night won a nip and tuck basketball game from the Heart of America Chapter, DeMolay, team of Kansas City, 20-18.

The play of the Spoofhounds certainly deserves a larger audience tonight, when Cameron plays here, than the one that saw the Spoofhounds forge ahead to a victory over the Kansas Citians.

Both teams, playing hard and fast, perhaps exerted some unnecessary roughness and both missed many attempts at the meshed loop. In the first half the DeMolay team, boasting for its captain Herschel Martin, letterman of Manual High of Kansas City and Western champion swimmer of the A. A. U., found the basket oftener than the boys drilled by Coach Croy. But the second half saw the tables turned.

The first quarter found Maryville trailing, 8 to 3. However, in the second quarter the Maryville boys outfought the visitors, scoring seven points and ending the half 12 to 10 for the DeMolays.

Swinford, who had shot many times but failed to register, caught a glimpse of the loop with the beginning of the second half to boost the Maryville total four times, and Smith counted once.

Close guarding featured the last quarter, but the Spoofhounds counted two field goals while the visitors had to be content with a free throw.

Each team was given seven attempts at free throws. The DeMolays lost their game by missing five of the seven trys while the Maryville boys found the basket for four out of seven. Both teams made eight field goals each.

Richardson, center for the DeMolays played the best floor game, while Captain Martin also made a good showing, getting three field baskets.

For Maryville, no especial star could be picked. Swinford, however, must be credited for his five field baskets.

Coach Bookman's Charges Display Mid-Season Form in 30-10 Victory.—Other Game 20-10.

Showing mid-season form for the first time, Maryville High School's sextet of girl basketball players returned from Tarkio last night with an impressive 30-10 victory.

On the same court, the Burlington Junction boys won from the Tarkio boys, 20-10.

Both games were fast and interesting. The Tarkio girls presented a strong combination, but the Maryville girls were playing their best game of the year.

"When a team gets going—well, you know how it is," said Miss Ruth Bookman, coach.

Puckett and Catherine Wray started in the forward positions for Maryville, and they played most of the game, although Chick replaced each for short periods. At the end of the first half the score was 14-6 for Maryville and at the end of the third quarter it was 20-10.

The Burlington Junction-Tarkio game came to half time with the Nodaway countians leading 7-0. In the third quarter, excitement became intense when Lang of Tarkio rang up three field goals from long distance. Burlington Junction rallied, however, and piled up a good lead again.

Carter of Burlington Junction was high point man with 9 points and was closely followed by his teammate, Plummer, with 8 points. The Junction team will play Rock Port tonight at Rock Port. The box score:

M. I. A. A. SCHOOLS ARE BATTLING FOR CONFERENCE HONORS.

2 UPSETS LAST NIGHT

Cape Girardeau And Kirksville And Warrensburg And Springfield Split Pair Of Games Each During The Week-End.

M. I. A. A. Standings.

Team	W.	L.	Pct.	Pts.	OP
Warrensburg	3	1	.750	122	128
Kirksville	1	1	.500	53	54

Cape Girardeau	1	3	.250	114	118
Maryville	0	0	.000	00	00

The Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association basketball season this year bids fair to witness upset after upset, if the six games played so far are to foretell the entire list of encounters between the teachers college quintets. With very team having been in conference competition with the exception of the Maryville Bearcats, and no team having a perfect record, it seems certain that the season is to witness a number of instances where upset follows after downfall.

Every other team in the conference outside of Maryville has played at least two games, and the Warrensburg Mules, with three victories and one defeat, are leading the list. Last night witnessed the first two upsets of the season.

Night before last Warrensburg triumphed over Springfield, 30 to 28, and Kirksville downed Cape Girardeau, 31 to 28. But last night Cape turned around and trimmed Kirksville, 26 to 22, and the Southwest Missouri Teachers swamped Warrensburg, 40 to 27.

Warrensburg had previously won a pair of hard-fought games from Cape by close scores.

Indications are that the game at Cape Girardeau last night was a fast one, but reports from Springfield say that the Warrensburg team, after having downed the Bears Thursday night, showed a reversal of form and afforded weak competition for Coach Andy MacDonal's cagers.

The local Bearcats are now the only team with a clear record. They do not open their conference season until next week-end, when games are scheduled for Friday and Saturday night here with Springfield.

The Bearcats have not been seen in action before the game Friday night. They were scheduled to meet the Tarkio College team at Tarkio, but a conflict there has necessitated the postponement of the game to a later date.

HOPKINS H. S. CAGERS LOSE TO PICKERING

Tight Guarding on Both Sides Features Game Ending 23 to 12—McKee High Point Man.

The Pickering High School quintet defeated the Hopkins boys at Hopkins last night in a game featured by tight defenses exhibited on both sides.

Playing more on the defense than offense, the Hopkins lads bowed to the Pickering boys, 23 to 12. Hopkins felt the absence of their regular forward, Mutti, who has been kept off the court by a broken ankle, suffered in the tournament at Burlington Junction.

In a preliminary game last night the Hopkins girls defeated a team of town players, 31 to 3. This was reported as a listless affair.

Galen Turner of Hopkins officiated in both games.

McKee of Pickering, who starred in the Spoofhound team last year, was high point man with ten points, although six of these were obtained via the gift route.

Barnard's high school boys first team defeated the first string cagers of the Skidmore High School at Barnard last night 22 to 14. However, the Skidmore second team took the measure of the Barnard second tegm 8 to 6. A third game on the basketball program was a hotly contested struggle between the town teams of Guilford and Barnard in which the Guilford cagers found themselves winners 8 to 7.

Parnell Teams Split in Grant City Games

Boys Win, 16-12, While Girls Lose, 26-8.—A Tournament At Parnell Next Saturday.

Parnell High School basketball teams divided a double-header played with Grant City High School last night on the Grant City Court. The Parnell girls lost, 26-8, while the boys won, 16-12.

Both games were fast. The Parnell boys outplayed their opponents, according to spectators, by a larger margin than the score indicates, but the Bouncing Betties were unable to get their sights adjusted to shooting range. The Grant City girls have a big, rangy team, and last week defeated Ravenwood, Nodaway county champions, by the close score of 20-19.

John Ham of Sheridan refereed both games.

The Grant City teams will play return contests at Parnell in two weeks. Next Saturday a girls' tournament will be held at Parnell, with Grant City, Ravenwood, Parnell and one other team competing. At night a boys game will be plyaed also, with Barard and Parnell as opponents.

Sport Answers for Puzzled Fans

Sports Editor, Democrat-Forum:

Dear Sir: Twice lately I have noticed that the official scorer in basketball games at the College has refused to allow a player to substitute when his coach sent him to report, and has held him from the game until he saw fit to blow his whistle.

Now, it seems to me that this may be unfair, since a coach might want to substitute a man hurridly to stem a scoring spree on the part of the opposition.

I shall cite two instances.

In the Savannah-Maryville High game a week ago, a player went to the scorer and reported, and then started on the court when a free throw was being tried. In the game with the Catholic Community Club team Wednesday night, Ferguson was substituted for Burks. He reported and started on the court when Ungles was preparing to shoot a free throw. He also was called back, and it was some time before the scorer saw fit to allow him to report to the referee.

How come?—T. W. V., Maryville.

Answer:

The scorer was merely carrying out a new ruling of this year which says that there shall be no substitutions unless the ball is out of bounds, unless there is a jump ball, or unless the ball is dead. The rules provided that the ball is theoretically not dead when there is a foul, be it for one shot or two. Since this is a new ruling, it is unfamiliar to many persons, players, fans, and coaches alike.

Question:

Is there any time limit on shooting free throws?—L. M. W., Maryville.

Answer:

Yes, the rules allow but ten seconds for that purpose. There is no instance on record here, however, where that rule has been enforced.
